Pet Report Example

It is nice if pet shops provide useful information on how to look after pets. Each person in your group is going to write a report that describes the animal you chose before. It should explain what things people should buy. It should also explain what people should do to keep their pet healthy.

Read the following pet report and answer the questions below.

Taking Care of a Rainbow Stag Beetle is Easy!

Rainbow stag beetles are beautiful animals. They are mostly green and red which are good colors to keep them camouflaged in rainforests. They have hard outer wings and can fly. Their legs have sharp claws so that they can hold onto and climb up trees. They also have mandibles which they use to fight with other insects. You should see them do these things.

You need to buy a few things if you want to have a rainbow stag beetle. Firstly, you will need a nice container to keep your beetle in. Secondly, you should buy some humus and pieces of wood for your beetle to walk on. Thirdly, you should also buy some beetle jelly to feed it. It is best to buy all these things at the start.

It's important that you take care of your rainbow stag beetle. You need to change the beetle jelly every few days. You must not give it watermelon because it will make your beetle sick. You must add a little bit of water into the container too. It would be best if you wipe the inside of the container to stop it from smelling. If you do these things, you will have a very happy rainbow stag beetle.
